

A Visit to a Book Fair Essay - 100 Words

Book fairs are organized for those who love books. It is not a festival or celebration but people love them more than festivals and celebrations.

Book fairs are centres of attraction because of the variety of books they display. Book-lovers throng these fairs in millions to see, buy and read books.

In a book fair, we come across comics, novels, magazines, encyclopaedias, dictionaries and all other format of books.

I visited a book fair last week. The most attractive stalls for me were those which contained books on the mysteries of the universe. I also came across books on our Vedas, Upanishads and other scriptures.

Overall, it was a great experience watching the book fair.